SPANGENBERG, SHIBLEY & LIBER LLP

Dedicated Determined Professional

FOR MORE THAN 60 YEARS SPANGENBERG, SHIBLEY & LIBER has represented plaintiffs in Ohio and elsewhere in cases involving wrongful death, personal injury, malpractice, negligence, defective products, business disputes, insurance coverage issues and other tort litigation. The firm's enduring record of success can be credited to the collective care given to each client. "The firm's attorneys strongly believe that each case belongs solely to the client, not to the lawyer," says managing partner Peter Weinberger.

AN EXPANDING PRACTICE, A SINGLE FOCUS The firm only represents plaintiffs, which can include individuals, organizations and companies of all sizes. Many cases come via other attorneys' referrals. "They know our attorneys' reputation for handling complex or unusual cases," Weinberger says.

To meet the growing demand for its services, the firm has expanded its practice beyond tort litigation to include breach of contract, securities fraud and a broad range of business and insurance disputes. The firm is undertaking leading roles in consumer class actions and multidistrict litigation involving defective products. John D. Liber, of counsel and a former managing partner, provides mediation and arbitration services in complex legal matters.

FIVE NAMED TO 2009 OHIO SUPER LAWYERS® In addition to recognition by The Best Lawyers in America®, the firm is also proud to announce that a number of its attorneys have been named to Ohio Super Lawyers for the fourth consecutive year. For 2009 they include Peter J. Brodhead, William Hawal, Dennis R. Lansdowne, John D. Liber and Peter H. Weinberger.

In addition, Nicholas A. DiCello has been named to Rising Stars as published in Ohio Super Lawyers.

AHEAD OF THE CURVE "We are selective about which cases we accept," says Weinberger. "We pursue only those cases in which there has been a substantial breach or violation of our clients' rights."

In a rapidly shifting world, Spangenberg keeps pace with changing laws and uses the latest technologies for research, presentation and persuasion. Staying on top of the legal profession helps the firm work in an expeditious manner. The firm also consults and works closely with the best-credentialed experts available, so that clients have the most reliable information on their side.

"We are highly motivated to resolve cases through settlement or trial in a timely manner," Weinberger says. "While keeping the clients' interests paramount, we practice law with the utmost consideration to dedication, determination and professionalism."
